COMMUNITY ALERT:
MOUNTAIN LION AND COYOTE AWARENESS

Mountain Lions and Coyotes are indigenous to the Verdugo Mountains and sightings of them in adjacent residential areas have risen during this time of year. They are both naturally fearful of humans, but they may become less apprehensive if given easy access to human food and garbage.

The following precautions have been provided by the California Department of Fish and Game to assist residents in communities where coyotes frequent:

- Install motion-sensitive lighting around the house.
- Do not leave small children and small pets outside unattended.
- Trim ground level shrubbery to reduce hiding places.
- If followed by a coyote, make loud noises. If this fails, throw rocks in the animal's direction.
- Put garbage in tightly closed containers that cannot be tipped over.
- Remove sources of water, especially in dry climates.
- Do not leave pet food outside.

For questions concerning this issue, please contact Burbank Animal Control at 818.238.3340
